ITALIAN KING AND QUEEN MEET PRESIDENT

PEOPLE DISPLAY GREAT PLEASURE

Italians Swarm From Hills and Valleys to Welcome President Wilson.

WAVE FLAGS AND HATS

From the Frontier to Rome the Journey of the American Party Was Just Like a Triumphal Procession.

Rome, Jan. 3.—The journey of President Wilson from the frontier to Rome was like a triumphal procession. Mountaineers and villagers swarmed from the hills and valleys to the railroad over which the presidential train passed to pay homage to America. They shouted "vivas," waving hats and handkerchiefs and flags and forming picturesque groups which were emphasized by the brilliant sunshine, blue sky and green landscape. At Turin the President was met at the station by the prefect of the province, the mayor, the general commanding the troops and other authorities.

Although the reception to the American chief executive was unofficial the station was decorated with the Italian and American colors, while everywhere in the city the Stars and Stripes were flown beside the Italian flag.

The President's train left a short time later amid the enthusiastic cheers of a crowd which had gathered to greet the nation's guest.

Anglo-American Pact Likely.

Paris, Jan. 3.—The view is now held in American official quarters that the view of the British leaders shows such co-operation with the American viewpoint as will facilitate a mutual agreement before the peace congress.

After the close of the recent conferences and the public demonstrations attending President Wilson's visit to London, one of the foremost British statesmen summed up the situation by saying:

"I would not think of having the peace congress close until it had established a league of nations as outlined by President Wilson, as the British nation has clearly shown that it expects that to be done."

Real Work Will Then Begin.

Mr. Balfour, British foreign secretary, after his conferences here, has proceeded to Cannes, where he will remain until the middle of next week. He and Premier Lloyd George will be in Paris on the return of President Wilson from Italy.

It is then that the real work of inter-Allied conferences will begin. This will not be by any formal meeting around the table at the outset, as comparatively few delegates will be in Paris at that time. But the informal conferences will be progressively important from then on as the informal conferences will merge into the peace conference without any delineation of dates.

It is understood a special committee will be designated to formulate a plan for a society of nations on which the French member will probably be Leon Bourgeois and the English member Lord Robert Cecil, both of whom are believed to have their projects well along toward completion.

SAIL FROM FRENCH PORTS

Four More Transports Bound for the United States.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The departure from France of four transports with about 2,000 troops, was announced in a cable advice to the War Department. They are the Tolosa, the Uluia and the Abangarez, for New York, and the Minnesota, whose port of destination was not indicated. There are only five casual officers on the latter ship.

PERSHING PROMISES VISIT

American Commander Accepts Invitation From Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 3.—General Pershing will be the guest of Pittsburgh and will make an address here shortly after his return from France, according to a letter received from the American commander by George S. Oliver, president of the chamber of commerce, in answer to its invitation, cabled several weeks ago.

GASOLINE TANK EXPLODES

Twenty Men and Women Are Injured at Constable Hook, N. J.

Bayonne, N. J., Jan. 3.—When a tank containing more than 8,000 gallons of gasoline exploded at the Standard Oil company's plant at Constable Hook, 20 men and girl employees were badly burned.

They were removed to a hospital where it was said some probably would die.

PRINCE OF WALES
Heir to British Throne May Visit United States.

Dent Declines to Handle War Dept. Reorganization Bill

By L. C. MARTIN
(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Washington, Jan. 3.—Representative Dent, chairman of the house military committee, has refused to handle the war departments organization bill at this session, as became known today. Dent's insurgency practically makes it certain that the peace time military policy of the nation will be handled by the republican congress after March 4th.

Trans-Pacific Rates Soon to Be Reduced

By United Press
Washington, Jan. 3.—A reduction of trans-Pacific freight rates will soon be made by the shipping board of officials said.

McAdoo Gives Views on R. R. Restoration

By United Press
Washington, Jan. 3.—The return of railroads to private control of several hundred companies is impossible if important reforms are to be preserved, Director General McAdoo declared to the interstate commerce committee of the senate today. He said there are three alternatives, return the roads to the companies, government ownership and control, or combine hundreds of companies into a few under strict control.

VESSEL TIGHT IN SAND

About 300 Persons Have Been Taken Off Transport.

Coast Guards Battle With Angry Seas and Have Three Boats Capsized.

New York, Jan. 3.—Coast guards from many stations, aided by crews from nearly 20 naval craft, battling against an angry sea which capsized three of their boats, took safely to shore 17 navy nurses and 237 of the 2,480 soldiers on the inbound transport Northern Pacific, fast on a sandbar near Fire Island light.

When many barrels of oil spread on the waves had failed to make the water surrounding the vessel much calmer, the rescue work was halted. Remaining aboard the Northern Pacific are most of the sick and wounded. Naval officers deemed it too hazardous to attempt to remove the stretchers cases.

The vessel is in no danger, according to a wireless message from her commander, Captain Connolly.

Another message received by Vice Admiral Gleaves at Embarkation headquarters in Hoboken stated that the Northern Pacific had enough boats of all classes to land the passengers if the sea calms down.

MILK FAMINE IN NEW YORK

Dairymen's League Is Holding Out for Higher Price.

New York, Jan. 3.—The milk famine which began as the result of the Dairymen's league "strike" to enforce a price of $4.01 per 100 pounds is a "serious menace to the public health," and if it continues will imperil every family in the city, Health Commissioner Copeland declared in testimony at the "John Doe" inquiry into the milk situation.

Dr. Copeland said that the health department had not been warned of the impending shortage and as a result had been unable to furnish milk to 11,000 children of the poor.

INQUIRY INTO CABLE LINES

Resolution in Senate Would Probe Reason for Federal Action.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Demand for an investigation by the Senate committee on interstate commerce of taking over of cable lines was made in the Senate by Senator Frank P. Kellogg of St. Paul, and a resolution introduced by him for this purpose.

At the same time he advocated development of cable communication especially as a means of building up trade between this country and South America.

BOLSHEVIKI IS RECRUITING

Good Inducements Placed Before Russian Soldiers.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Advices to the State department announce that returning Russian prisoners of war, on coming out of Austria-Hungary and Germany, are being offered 300 rubles monthly, clothing and food, to join the Bolshevik red army. According to this information, few of the prisoners accept this offer, and popular feeling in Russia is strongly against the Bolsheviks.

They were removed to a hospital where it was said some probably would die.

President Has Arrived at Rome

By HENRY WOOD,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, Jan. 3.—President Wilson's special train arrived here punctually at ten-thirty this morning. Tremendous cheers greeted them in the royal waiting room which was gaily tapestried and carpeted, and decorated with a myriad of flowers. The Wilsons were heartily greeted by King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena.

Allied Leaders Agreed on German Confederation

By United Press
Vienna, Jan. 3.—President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau, and Premier Lloyd George have agreed on the creation of a new German confederation under Bavarian direction, according to an announcement by President Masaryk, of the Czechoslovakia.

Imperial Palace Looted.

Berlin, Jan. 3.—The damage to the Imperial palace in Berlin during the recent excesses, by theft or vandalism, is estimated to exceed $1,500,000. Five hundred persons implicated in the plundering, which is said to have been going on for six weeks, have been apprehended and much of the stolen property recovered. The former emperor's warden succeeded in getting the bulk of the Imperial art treasures to a place of safety after the flight of the emperor.

London, Jan. 3.—Field Marshal Mackensen was arrested by the French at Budapest say dispatches from Innsbruck.

Reported Ultimatum to German Commander

By United Press
Copenhagen, Jan. 3.—German troops cooperated with the British naval authorities in suppressing Bolshevik demonstrations at Riga, says a Berlin report.

Who Needs a Bank?

YOUR first thought may be "people who have a good deal of money."

But that is a mistake. People who haven't a great deal of money are the ones who need a bank most.

They need a bank in which to accumulate a surplus. Very few substantial fortunes have been acquired independent of banking facilities.

They need the interest which the bank pays them on their savings, and which, as their savings grow, helps to hasten their day of accomplishment.

They need the counsel of a bank in matters concerning the safe investment of their funds; they need experienced advice when a business venture is under consideration.

This bank regards it a pleasurable duty to assist earnest minded people of small means to gain a financial footing.

Don't you need this bank?

Paquin Turning Out Army Clothes.
Mme. Paquin, the world-famous modiste, is now making clothing for our army.

Whenever anyone congratulated the late M. Paquin upon his success, and praised those wonderful creations in feminine apparel which the world and his wife flock to see, he merely replied, "The credit belongs to Madame, not to myself."

M. Paquin started life as a bank clerk. Madame was saleswoman in a big Paris dressmaking house when they married. She induced him to leave the bank and open a small costumer's shop known as the Maison Leanne. That shop has long ceased to exist, but from it sprung the huge business house of Paquin, which the founders eventually sold to a company with a capital of $2,500,000.

Great for "Flu" and "Grip" Coughs
"I had an awful cold that left me with a dreadful cough," says Mrs. M. E. Smith, Benton, La. Bought Foley's Honey and Tar of our druggist and it cured me completely." This grand remedy should be in every household at this time, when influenza, grip, coughs and colds are so prevalent. Contains no opiates. H. P. Dunn, druggist. mwf

GERMANS TO RESIST

Berlin Declares War Minister Has Ordered Out Army to Oppose Invaders — Polish Appeal to the Allies Declared Unanswered.

Berlin, Jan. 3.—According to information received here, the Polish army of 30,000 advancing along the railways towards Berlin has captured six German cities.

The Polish mobilization and advance has alarmed the German government. Counter measures are expected to be undertaken immediately. Herr Noske, newly appointed minister of the army and navy has ordered the arming of large German forces to oppose the Polish invasion of German territory. Much alarm is felt here regarding the Polish advance.

50 Miles from Berlin.

London, Jan. 2.—Polish troops have entered Frankfort on the Oder, 50 miles east of Berlin, says a Berlin dispatch to the Express, which adds that the Poles have occupied Beuthen, in Prussian Silesia and Bromberg, in the province of Posen, 60 miles northeast of the Posen city.

Negotiations Threatened.

Copenhagen, Jan. 3.—The Allied armistice commission threatens to break off preliminary peace negotiations if the radicals seize the German government, according to a Berlin dispatch received by the Politiken.

Poland in Despair.

London, Jan. 3.—Poland is in despair, owing to the invasion of Bolshevik troops and the apparent indifference of the western powers to the plight of the country, according to a Warsaw dispatch to the Mail.

"Telegrams are sent begging intervention by the Allies," the dispatch states, "but no reply comes."

Factories Destroyed.

The correspondent says the situation is made worse by internal disorder in Poland. Factories in all the industrial towns have been destroyed by the Germans and thousands of Poles who were sent to Germany during the war are returning and there is no employment for them. They are taking the law into their own hands and terrorizing their former employers, compelling them to give them money.

Łódź is in the hands of the Red Guard, which has shot some of the officers of the regular troops. The government, headed by Joseph Pilsudski, is weak, the correspondent says.

TRADE CURB IS MODIFIED

Marshal Foch Grants Request of German Delegation.

London, Jan. 3.—General appeals against suspension by the Allies of intercourse between the part of Germany occupied by the Allied armies and the rest of Germany have been taken into consideration at the headquarters of Marshal Foch at Luxembourg. A German delegation has been received at the marshal's headquarters and has been informed that as far as military exigencies permit the appeals have been granted.

Navy Demobilization Work.

Washington, Dec. 31.—Assistant Secretary Franklin D. Roosevelt, accompanied by T. J. Spreckley, former United States district attorney of Connecticut, and Commander John M. Hancock, U. S. N. of the bureau of supplies and accounts, left here for New York, where they will sail on the Leviathan as a special American naval demobilization commission for Europe. Mr. Roosevelt expressed the opinion that the demobilization abroad would be completed in two months.

"UNEXPECTED PLACES"

Bert Lytell Appears in Adventure Play at the Best Theatre Tonight

A decidedly thrilling and entertaining feature will be the attraction at the Best theatre today in which the popular actor Bert Lytell is seen as the star. This is the Metro production "Unexpected Places" written by Lieut. Frank R. Adams and published in the Blue Book magazine.

At the Best Tomorrow

Frank Keenan, star of "Loaded Dice," the Pathé play which Manager Workman of the Best theatre, will present to his patrons tomorrow is an out-of-door man and ascribes to that fact much of the remarkable success which he has attained as an actor.

"The Old Romans," said Mr. Keenan the other day, "knew what they were talking about when they said 'a sound mind in a sound body.' The only way to get the best out of yourself is to cultivate good health. Especially is this important to an actor. The work is exacting, easy though it may look to the outsider, and lays a heavy tax upon one's nerves and strength. There is a tendency to become stale. When I feel myself getting into that condition I know there is only one cure—get out into the open and work it out with hard exercise. A man must be 'fit' to succeed. I try to always be 'fit.' Because of that physical fitness I always enjoy my work before the film camera."

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES ACT

Take Steps to Break Street Car Strike at Kansas City

Kansas City, Jan. 3.—Under orders from Judge John C. Pollock of the federal court, United States marshals took control of the street cars and property of the Kansas City Railway company in Kansas City, Kan., as an outgrowth of the strike of motormen and conductors in progress since Dec. 11. Trainmen as well as guards are being employed by the federal authorities and assigned to duty as rapidly as they can be sworn in. All are armed.

30 BRITONS HURT IN CRASH

"Their Children"

By WALTER DELANEY

(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

More than once when he passed the broken down, but neatly-kept cottage located at the other end of the block about two hundred feet from his own lonely but palatial home, Barton Lee slowed his steps, his glance lingering on the neat, trim figure of a lady about his own age.

He had taken sufficient interest in the lady to ask something about her from his sole servant, John Ward. The latter imparted the intelligence that she was a widow, Mrs. Althea Warren, that her husband, a worthless adventurer, had deserted her and died and that his family had given his widow the little cottage and a small yearly stipend.

Lee had lifted his hat whenever he caught her eye, but was not the man to intrude his attention upon her, and while she responded to the courtesy, she acknowledged it only as the casual interest of a man pleasant and friendly with all his neighbors, rich or poor.

She was pleased at the neighborly recognition of a man whom everybody respected, and whom she secretly admired. She grew to have a certain reverence for him when she learned of his deeds of charity and helpfulness for the obscure and unfortunate. He became her ideal and she often wondered how he was content to live alone in the great corner mansion. His man Ward was wont to greet Mrs. Warren civilly and one morning he seemed particularly anxious to talk.

"New arrivals at our house yesterday," he announced. "I suppose you've heard about it?"

"Why, no, I hadn't," she answered.

"Mr. Lee has had some strange impulses at times, but this freak beats 'em all. He was in the city last week and got interested in a lot of Belgian children brought to this country to find homes for. Bless me! if he didn't take three. Just as if they were war stamps or Liberty bonds to file away and no more trouble than that. They're at the house now, a girl of eight and two lads six and four. Say, they're cute, lively and interesting, but think of it—him a confirmed old bachelor!"

"But not very old," demurred Mrs. Warren.

"Well, in his habits and system and ways. Him bothering with three little ones just at the age to keep up a racket in our quiet old home!"

"But who is going to take care of them?" inquired the widow.

"That's it—me, of course. He's that inexperienced he thinks they can be packed away like dolls. Yes, I'm to see that they thrive and be happy. A fine responsibility for a man of my age, isn't it, now?"

"Mr. Lee is a grand, good man to adopt those poor homeless waifs," declared Mrs. Warren in a tone fervent with genuine emotion, and when Ward was gone her womanly heart went out longingly towards the little

"Well, we've got a sort of system with the little ones," Ward reported to her a week later. "They just romp around the house when it rains and play in the garden all day long when it's fair. I'm growing to like them and Mr. Lee, who is in the city, writes every day anxiously inquiring about them as if they were his own kith and kin."

"Oh, let me nurse them!" impulsively exclaimed the widow. "There is plenty of room for them here. You have your hands full and I—my heart goes out to the little tots!" And before nightfall she was hovering over her patients like some fond mother.

"All that it matters much, the old house going," he told her, "for Mr. Lee is going to move soon. You see, the place is under foreclosure."

"Bad news!" she mourned. "Mr. Lee had an automobile accident in the city and is laid up in a hospital there."

And, two days later: "All three of the little ones have got the measles."

SAW SERVICE OVER THERE

Harry B. Nelson with Doughboys at Rhine, Harry B. Swanson in the American Navy

(Deerwood Enterprise)

Two Deerwood boys who have seen active service in France are now spending the Christmas week with home folks—the first of our heroes to return from "over there." They are both named Harry B. One is Harry B. Nelson and the other Harry B. Swanson. One was with the "doughboys" that started the Huns Rhine-ward and the other with the jackies who kept Dunkirk from falling into enemy hands.

Harry Nelson arrived Tuesday. He was drafted last June and soon found himself with Company G, 362nd Infantry in France, went over the top, was gassed and has been convalescing in the hospitals over there and later at Ft. Dodge.

Harry Swanson enlisted in the Crosby naval militia in 1916 and when our country entered the war was given the necessary training at Philadelphia and sent across to join the naval forces at Dunkirk.

When he arrived on the afternoon train, Christmas Day, there was a little touch of the dramatic. As he emerged from the coach he paused a moment and glanced down over the crowd; someone said, "Why, there is Buck!" and then there arose a cheer and then the handshaking began. A Deerwood boy directly from the shell-torn soil of France! He had quite time to answer all the questions that surged in from all sides, besides he was in a hurry to rush up to the house to see mother! Harry is the youngest boy from our village to get to the battle front—he is in his teens and weighs 225 pounds. The experience of daily dodging shells does not seem to have interfered with his physical development nor with his health in general. He says France is the finest country in the world—i. e., aside from the U. S. of A., but he adds that this Xmas home-coming is about the best thing that has come his way for some time.

COLD WAVE HITS CITY IN NIGHT

Government Thermometer Records 32 Below, Lowest Point Recorded This Winter

COMPARED WITH OTHER YEARS

This January Starts Out Coldest of Any January in Past Five Years of Records

The lowest point in winter temperature was reached last night, January 3, when 32 below was recorded. This drop followed unseasonably warm weather throughout December.

Water pipes cracked in some homes and plumbers were busy. One household had two gold fish freeze up, but they were thawed out later.

Past records were delved in and the weather for the first four days in January as given as follows:

1914 High Low

Jan. 1 25 19

Jan. 2 29 22

Jan. 3 23 14

Jan. 4 25 16

December was abnormally warm in 1918, but from all appearances January 1919 bids fair to make up in cold temperature as it starts out colder than January of any year past commencing 1914.

HALF FARE RATE FOR MINISTERS

Beginning Jan. 1 all ministers and those engaged exclusively in religious duties can buy first class railroad tickets for one-half price. It's a belated Christmas gift to the clergy from the railroad administration.

Railroad administration officials fear there will be some difficulty in identifying those entitled to the new rates, but a plan will soon be worked out which calls for the formation of clergy bureaus to be maintained in New York, Atlanta and Chicago. These bureaus will issue coupon books to ministers which when presented will entitle them to the reduced fare.

The reduced fares, the new order states, can also be had by "sisters of charity, deaconesses and others engaged in exclusively religious duties." Sleeping car rates are not reduced to the ministers.

ROLL OF HONOR

Pte. Benjamin F. Clark, infantry, previously reported missing in action October 3, is now reported killed in action, same date. He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Stillman A. Clark, 31 years old and single. He entered the army at Ellendale, N. D., July 1917 and was trained at Camp Dodge and Camp Pike, Ark. A printer by trade, he served in the machine gun section of the 28th infantry. Mr. and Mrs. Clark formerly resided in Monticello and lately removed to Brainerd, having built a pleasant home on Ash avenue in Northeast Brainerd. Mr. Clark is employed at the Tribune office.

1st Lieut. Frederick J. Miller has returned from war service. He was at the officers training camp at Fort Snelling and at Camp Dodge and Pike. Lieut. Miller secured an honorable discharge and returns to civil life opening again his law office at Pine River. He gained 25 pounds in weight.

Charles J. Peterson of Route 1 Brainerd, has five boys in war service. Mr. and Mrs. Neil D. Brooks left Wednesday night for Billings, Montana, where he will resume his former position as city ticket agent of the Northern Pacific railroad. Mr. Brooks was recently mustered out of the army at Camp Pike, Ark., where he was in an officers' training camp, and joined his wife here.

Herr Hohenzollern and Dutch Host Driving Near Amerongen, Where Ex-Kaiser Is in Exile

This is the first actual photograph received in this country showing Herr William Hohenzollern in exile in Holland. The former kaiser, shorn of his war trappings, was "snapped" while out for an airing with Count von Bentinck his Dutch host. The picture was taken just outside of Amerongen Castle where guards have since been posted to prevent photographers showing the world the deposed ruler in his various moods.

There guards carry clubs somewhat like a policeman's night stick which they hurl—or threaten to hurl—at any man with a camera.

PLAN THE WAR GARDEN NOW

More Food Than Ever Before Should Be Raised by Amateur Growers This Year.

Sergeant Carl Lindquist has returned to Brainerd after service abroad in the aerial squadron. He was in England and France in the American Expeditionary force.

He flew in a Handley-Page bombing machine, a most formidable type and really a battleship of the air. It carried three tons of bombs and as high as nineteen machine guns. One flying over London carried forty men on a trial trip. The top wing spread measured 125 feet.

There is no doubt that the signing of the armistice in November cut short a great aerial invasion of Germany which would have rocked Berlin from stem to stern. Sgt. Lindquist was silent about this and vouchsafed but little information.

When his troop mates arrived in New York harbor it was just as President Wilson was embarking on his European voyage. They saw ten destroyers and three cruisers as guard of honor, sailors standing at attention, confetti flying from office buildings and heard the music and sirens.

Sgt. Lindquist is a brother of Mrs. Franz Anderson of Brainerd and will be associated with her in conducting the Anderson photographic studio.

Potatoes, beets, carrots, peas, corn and tomatoes are among the most important garden crops from a food standpoint. Radishes, lettuce, onions, cucumbers, turnips, squash, cabbage, cauliflower, spinach, parsnips, eggplants, peppers, etc., add to the variety.

Potatoes, beets and carrots can be planted almost as soon as the frost is out of the ground, and then can be followed by the more tender crops as soon as the ground has become reasonably warm.

When there is sufficient room for grapes, blackberries, currants, gooseberries, strawberries and possibly a few apples, peaches, pears, cherries and plums—and the children especially enjoy and thrive on plenty of fresh fruit.

Preventing Cracks in Pavements

At a recent meeting of the American Society for Municipal Improvements held at Buffalo, an interesting paper was read on frost-proof foundations for hard-surfaced pavements, in which it was suggested that the sub-grade should be laid with a course of hollow tile of say four-inch height, overlaid with a foundation of two to four inches of concrete. On this, the paving material may be laid. The tile acts as a non-conductor of heat, preventing the frost from penetrating to the sub-grade and also acts as a drain for moisture. About Future Dry Goods Prices

There is a general expectancy that prices will drop quickly now that the war is over. Doubtless that by the close of 1919 prices will have decreased somewhat, but the reductions can not come quickly nor is there reason to believe that they will begin to go down for six months. Contracts have all been placed for spring. There is absolutely no surplus and the foreign demand is enormous. In many instances prices for spring are higher than were fall prices. You'll gain nothing by waiting—buy for present needs now.

Big Reductions Made in all Garment Prices

Following our custom to close out all garments at the close of each season, we now make final clearance prices. We have included every garment in this clearance. You will save money by purchasing those needed garments now while priced are greatly reduced.

Clemenceau's Message.
When in October M. Clemenceau received a Roumanian delegation he was asked, after a few minutes' conversation, by one of the delegates to send a message to the Roumanians who had fought so gallantly and suffered so terribly in the allied cause. The French premier's message was as pithy as it was expressive. "I rise," he said, "in the presence of your delegation; I take my hat off to the Roumanian people; I put it on again in face of the Roumanian government."

REVENUE BILL HAS STRANGE FEATURES

LOADED DOWN WITH ALL KINDS OF LEGISLATION THAT WILL BE ADOPTED BY HOUSE.

CHILD LABOR TAX FAVORED

Changes the Approach of Peace Is Bringing to Washington—Fordney Comes Out Strongly Against Extravagance by Congress.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—The revenue bill carrying $8,000,000,000 for 1919 and $4,000,000,000 for 1920 was loaded down with almost every kind of legislation that could be imagined. Not only was the bone-dry amendment for the District of Columbia attached, but what was far more far-reaching in importance was an amendment taxing the products of child labor, and another taxing political campaign contributions of more than $500 at the rate of 100 per cent. What is interesting about these various amendments that seem to have no particular place in a revenue bill is the fact that they will be adopted by the house. It is almost certain that the house of representatives will make sure that these amendments put on in the senate shall be incorporated in the bill before any conference agreement is reached.

The child labor measure is one which excited a good deal of adverse comment, but strange to say it was not opposed by the usual number of southern votes. In fact, a number of southern senators voted for the amendment. They included Fletcher of Florida, Gay and Ransdell of Louisiana, Kirby of Arkansas, McKellar of Tennessee, Martin and Swanson of Virginia, Sheppard of Texas, and Vandamme of Mississippi. There was no pretense that the amendment would raise any revenue, but it gets around the recent decision of the Supreme court which nullified the act passed a few years ago prohibiting the interstate shipment of goods made by child labor. It has been demonstrated time and again that where everything else fails, the taxing power of the government can be used to stop any kind of business. While it is called a dangerous power, it is sometimes exercised. Among the notable instances was the taxation of the circulation of state bankers at such a rate as to prevent issues of state bank money. Not many years ago the manufacture of white phosphorus matches was prohibited by taxation.

The old states' rights question was raised when this amendment was adopted, but it was observed that the idea of states' rights grows weaker and weaker in each succeeding session of congress. The growth of nationalism is something tremendous and there are only a very few defenders of the principle of states' rights.

A few changes are observed in Washington as a result of the end of the war. There has been a clearing out of the war workers to some extent, but not enough to restore the capital city to anything like its normal condition. There are just as many soldiers and sailors on the streets, but not quite so many officers. There are not as many soldiers and sailors driving women about the town as there were a short time ago, when the government automobiles were used for shopping trips, going to the theaters, clubs, evening parties, calling, etc. Probably the time will come when some congressman from what is called the "rural districts" will raise his head and make an inquiry as to why so much money was spent by the government for machines which were used largely for social purposes.

Congressman Fordney of Michigan, who is likely to be the floor leader of the house in the next congress, has taken a strong position against extravagance and he will probably insist upon close scrutiny of all bills which are proposed in the Sixty-sixth congress. "I believe the time for spending the people's money extravagantly," he told the house one day, "without questioning the purpose for which it is raised and spent, is nearly at an end. During the war all men in congress were patriotic and raised no question as to what use the people's money was going to be put to in carrying on the war. Much of it has been extravagantly spent and hereafter will be accounted for with much criticism, perhaps. I believe that to delegate to the postmaster general the power to establish a system of mail carriage by air service means the expenditure of not a few million dollars, but a billion dollars before long."

The disappearance of one or two words that have been heard so frequently during the past year or two will probably serve as an indication that war has ceased. One of them is "camouflage." This French word burst upon us like a bomb, and the explosion sent its fragments in every direction. Scarcely speech in congress could be made unless somebody worked in the word "camouflage." The other word was not exactly a war word, but it has only one meaning now. It is "propaganda." One never hears the word now without thinking of the Huns. In fact, it has been worked almost as much since the war as while the war was in progress. That is another score we have to settle with the Germans.

TARRED ROADS AFFECT TREES

Investigation Has Shown Conclusively Their Disastrous Results on Neighboring Vegetation.

The injurious effects of tarred roads upon neighboring vegetation have been described in numerous articles emanating from both American and European sources. One of the latest investigations of this subject has been made at Milan by U. Brizi. The plants most susceptible to damage of this sort, says Signor Brizi, are species of horse chestnut (Aesculus Hippocastanum and Aescaria), the leaves of which, at the beginning of summer, turn rusty at the edge and curl up slightly, while their surface is covered with numerous small spots, which, at first, are yellow and look as if covered with a thin layer of shining varnish. The leaf then curls up more and more, dries, and is easily blown away. Other plants very sensitive to the effects of tar are Forsythia viridissima, Fagus sylvatica, Lagerstroemia indica, Magnolia grandiflora, Deutzia and Cornus. The damage is caused almost entirely by the very fine dust raised by the passage of motorcars. This dust settles slowly and is most abundant on low plants and the lower branches of trees. Once deposited, the small particles of tar give off injurious vapors when strongly heated by the sun. Plant and parts of plants not directly reached by the sun never show this damage, while plants exposed to the sun are injured in proportion to the intensity and duration of sunshine. The best remedy is to keep down the dust by the regular and abundant watering of the roads.—Scientific American.

Rural Rat Clubs.
In any rural community badly infested with rats, it is a good plan for farmers to form rat clubs and offer prizes for destroying the rodents. The younger members of the community as well as adults should be allowed to compete and the prizes should be awarded periodically, as once a month. A first, second and third prize are suggested for those who bring in the greatest number of rat tails. Specific rules governing the contests should be made at the start, and instruction as to proper methods of trapping or otherwise killing rats should be part of the program for each meeting of the club. Prizes may be provided by private donation or even by assessment of members. The plan gives better satisfaction than a system of straight rewards, because it arouses more enthusiasm and costs less.—D. Lantz in The House Rat.

Grade Streets With Marks.
Grading streets and giving them marks as is done with pupils in the public schools is the plan used in the city's petition to force the Pittsburgh Railways company to spend $626,447 in track and equipment improvements. Some of the company's tracks are graded as low as 30 per cent, this representing the worst stretches of road. The receivers of the company insist that further increases in fare will be necessitated if they are forced to improve their equipment.

Soon Grows to Mutton.
Visitor—"Do things grow rapidly in your part of the country?" Young Housekeeper—"I should think they do! When I order lamb from the butcher it always grows into mutton on the way home."—London Tid-Bits.

A GRAVEL and sand pit is not an inspiring sight to behold.

It makes about the same impression on the average person as any ordinary hole in the ground.

But when a great building program is contemplated, sand and gravel are of primary importance. Under such conditions a pit of this character is a handy and economical thing to have on the premises.

It is the good fortune of the Pan Motor Company to have such a pit in the very spot where it will later erect one of its large plant units. Thus, by having sand and gravel in its own yard a vast saving has been effected in the cost of all buildings erected in the past and will continue to be effected until the entire plant is in its completed stage.

Considering the saving in hauling and the fact that the pit itself serves as an excavation for a future building, there will be a saving conservatively estimated by experts at One Million Dollars.

Besides, the sand and the gravel are of a grade and kind highly valued by experienced builders—A-1 material.

Mother Earth is co-operating with the Pan Motor Company. The very ground is loyal and gives liberally of its treasure. There are lots of holes on the face of the earth but few of them are worth a Million Dollars.

The Pan Pit is doing its bit.

BOHEMIA LAND CO.

Popular Idea Concerning the Country and Its People Has Been Far From the Truth.

When Shakespeare wrote of "the seacoast of Bohemia" he showed no cheerfulness disregard of fact than most of us now do when we think of that richly storied country as a land of gypsies forever bent upon gay or wildsome adventure. "Bohemian" has stood for many an age as an appellation for carefree wanderers; yet as originally applied by the French it probably referred to the expatriated disciples of the Bohemian martyr, John Huss. Spiritual and patriotic fervor rather than light-heartedness are the traditional marks of this people, who after long generations of subjection to Teuton Austria are coming into their own.

Bohemia was the home of the Czechs for hundreds of years before Germanic invaders broke in upon its happy freedom, as early, indeed, as the sixth century before Christ. The Czechs' love of country and of liberty and their sense of Slavic kinship with their oppressed Slovak brethren dwelling near by never died or dimmed. Despite tyranny and persecution they have clung to pride in their past and to hope for their future; they have cherished their language, their literature and customs, their common faith and ideals.—Atlanta Journal.

ITALIAN KING AND QUEEN MEET PRESIDENT

PEOPLE DISPLAY GREAT PLEASURE

Italians Swarm From Hills and Valleys to Welcome President Wilson.

WAVE FLAGS AND HATS

From the Frontier to Rome the Journey of the American Party Was Just Like a Triumphal Procession.

Rome, Jan. 3.—The journey of President Wilson from the frontier to Rome was like a triumphal procession. Mountaineers and villagers swarmed from the hills and valleys to the railroad over which the presidential train passed to pay homage to America. They shouted "vivas," waving hats and handkerchiefs and flags and forming picturesque groups which were emphasized by the brilliant sunshine, blue sky and green landscape. At Turin the President was met at the station by the prefect of the province, the mayor, the general commanding the troops and other authorities.

Although the reception to the American chief executive was unofficial the station was decorated with the Italian and American colors, while everywhere in the city the Stars and Stripes were flown beside the Italian flag.

The President's train left a short time later amid the enthusiastic cheers of a crowd which had gathered to greet the nation's guest.

Anglo-American Pact Likely.

Paris, Jan. 3.—The view is now held in American official quarters that the view of the British leaders shows such co-ordination with the American viewpoint as will facilitate a mutual agreement before the peace congress.

After the close of the recent conferences and the public demonstrations attending President Wilson's visit to London, one of the foremost British statesmen summed up the situation by saying:

"I would not think of having the peace congress close until it had established a league of nations as outlined by President Wilson, as the British nation has clearly shown that it expects that to be done."

Real Work Will Then Begin.

Mr. Balfour, British foreign secretary, after his conferences here, has proceeded to Cannis, where he will remain until the middle of next week. He and Premier Lloyd George will be in Paris on the return of President Wilson from Italy.

It is then that the real work of inter-Allied conferences will begin. This will not be by any formal meeting around the table at the outset, as comparatively few delegates will be in Paris at that time. But the informal conferences will be progressively important from then on as the informal conferences will merge into the peace conference without any delimitation of dates.

It is understood a special committee will be designated to formulate a plan for a society of nations on which the French member will probably be Leon Bourgeois and the English member Lord Robert Cecil, both of whom are believed to have their projects well along toward completion.

SAIL FROM FRENCH PORTS

Four More Transports Bound for the United States.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The departure from France of four transports with about 2,000 troops, was announced in a cable advice to the War Department. They are the Toloa, the Ulua and the Abangarez, for New York, and the Minnesotan, whose port of destination was not indicated. There are only five casual officers on the latter ship.

PERSHING PROMISES VISIT

American Commander Accepts Invitation From Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 3.—General Pershing will be the guest of Pittsburg and will make an address here shortly after his return from France, according to a letter received from the American commander by George S. Oliver, president of the chamber of commerce, in answer to its invitation, called several weeks ago.

Dent Declines to Handle War Dept. Reorganization Bill

By L. C. MARTIN
(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Washington, Jan. 3.—Representative Dent, chairman of the house military committee, has refused to handle the war departments organization bill at this session it became known today. Dent's insurgency practically makes it certain that the peace time military policy of the nation will be handled by the republican congress after March 4th.

Washington, Jan. 3.—A reduction of trans-Pacific freight rates will soon be made the shipping board of officials said.

McAdoo Gives Views on R. R. Restoration

(By United Press)

Washington, Jan. 3.—The return of railroads to private control of several hundred companies is impossible if important reforms are to be preserved, Director General McAdoo declared to the interstate commerce committee of the senate today. He said there are three alternatives, return the roads to the companies, government ownership and control, or combine hundreds of companies into a few under strict control.

VESSEL TIGHT IN SAND

About 300 Persons Have Been Taken Off Transport.

Coast Guards Battle With Angry Seas and Have Three Boats Capsized.

New York, Jan. 3.—Coast guards from many stations, aided by crews from nearly 20 naval craft, battling against an angry sea which capsized three of their boats, took safely to shore 17 navy nurses and 237 of the 2,480 soldiers on the inbound transport Northern Pacific, fast on a sandbar near Fire Island light.

When many barrels of oil spread on the waves had failed to make the water surrounding the vessel much calmer, the rescue work was halted. Remaining aboard the Northern Pacific are most of the sick and wounded. Naval officers deemed it too hazardous to attempt to remove the stretcher cases.

The vessel is in no danger, according to a wireless message from her commander, Captain Connolly.

Another message received by Vice Admiral Gleaves at Embarkation headquarters in Hoboken stated that the Northern Pacific had enough boats of all classes to land the passengers if the sea calms down.

MILK FAMINE IN NEW YORK

Dairymen's League Is Holding Out for Higher Price.

New York, Jan. 3.—The milk famine which began as the result of the Dairymen's league "strike" to enforce a price of $4.91 per 100 pounds is a "serious menace to the public health," and if it continues will imperil every family in the city. Health Commissioner Copeland declared in testimony at the "John Doe" inquiry into the milk situation.

Dr. Copeland said that the health department had not been warned of the impending shortage and as a result had been unable to furnish milk to 11,000 children of the poor.

INQUIRY INTO CABLE LINES

Resolution in Senate Would Probe Reasons for Federal Action.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Demand for an investigation by the Senate committee on interstate commerce of taking over of cable lines was made in the Senate by Senator Frank P. Kellogg of St. Paul, and a resolution introduced by him for this purpose.

At the same time he advocated development of cable communication especially as a means of building up trade between this country and South America.

GOOD INDUCEMENTS PLACED BEFORE RUSSIAN SOLDIERS.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Advices to the State department announce that returning Russian prisoners of war, on coming out of Austria-Hungary and Germany, are being offered 300 rubles monthly, clothing and food, to join the Bolshevik red army. According to this information, few of the prisoners accept this offer, and popular feeling in Russia is strongly against the Bolsheviks.

They were removed to a hospital where it was said some probably would die.

President Has Arrived at Rome

By HENRY WOOD,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, Jan. 3.—President Wilson's special train arrived here punctually at ten-thirty this morning. Tremendous cheers greeted them in the royal waiting room which was gaily tapestried and carpeted, and decorated with a myriad of flowers. The Wilsons were heartily greeted by King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena.

British Delegates to Peace Conference Are Named.

War Office, Admiralty, Air Board and Other Departments Also Will Be Represented.

London, Jan. 3.—It is officially announced that the British delegates to the inter-Allied conference at Paris will include Premier Lloyd George, Foreign Secretary Balfour, Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer; Viscount Hardinge, permanent under secretary for foreign affairs; Sir William G. Tyrrel, senior clerk in the foreign office; Sir Louis Mallet, former British ambassador to Turkey; Sir Esme W. Howard, British minister to Sweden; Sir Ralph Paget, minister to Denmark, and Sir Eyre Crowe, assistant under secretary of state for foreign affairs. Lord Robert Cecil, former assistant under secretary, will go to France in connection with the proposed league of nations.

It is expected here that the conference will begin on Jan. 13. A majority of the British delegates will leave London on Jan. 4. Secretary Balfour already is in France.

With the foreign office officials, who will accompany the premier and the other cabinet members, will go representatives of the war office, the admiralty, the air board and other departments.

NO INCREASE IN PHONE RATE

Application of Companies Denied by Minnesota Railroad Commission.

St. Paul, Jan. 3.—Telephone rates will not be increased in Minnesota, at least for the present.

In decision handed down by the railroad and warehouse commission the application of the Tri-State and Northwestern Telephone companies for an increase in rates was denied. The decision in the case of the Northwestern company will apply also to the application of the Zenith Telephone company of Duluth. The companies asked an increase in rates that they might increase wages. The commission holds an increase in wages can be made without increasing rates.

WAR CONDITIONS INCREASE COST

Admiral Taylor Declares Figures on Warships Have Gone Up About 50 Per Cent.

PRICES TO STAY HIGH

Chief of Bureau of Construction and Repair Tells House Naval Committee He Does Not Anticipate Any Reduction.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Rear Admiral Taylor, chief of the bureau of construction and repair, told the house naval committee, in discussing the 1920 naval appropriation bill, war conditions have caused an enormous increase in the cost of building warships.

He estimated that the hulls and machinery of the 10 battleships and six battle cruisers authorized in 1916 would cost nearly $150,000,000 more than estimated—an increase of almost 50 per cent.

Admiral Taylor said he did not think it was likely that the end of hostilities would result in any speed reduction in costs. After the civil war, he said, there was no appreciable lowering of costs of labor and materials within three years.

Who Needs a Bank?
Copyright, Warner, Chapman Co., St. Paul

YOUR first thought may be "people who have a good deal of money." But that is a mistake. People who haven't a great deal of money are the ones who need a bank most.

They need a bank in which to accumulate a surplus. Very few substantial fortunes have been acquired independent of banking facilities.

They need the interest which the bank pays them on their savings, and which, as their savings grow, helps to hasten their day of accomplishment.

They need the counsel of a bank in matters concerning the safe investment of their funds; they need experienced advice when a business venture is under consideration.

This bank regards it a pleasurable duty to assist earnest minded people of small means to gain a financial footing.

Don't you need this bank?

POLISH TROOPS ENTER GERMANY

Force of 30,000 Said to Have
Seized Frankfort on Oder, 50
Miles From Berlin.

GERMANS TO RESIST

Berlin Declares War Minister Has Ordered Out Army to Oppose Invaders — Polish Appeal to the Allies Declared Unanswered.

Berlin, Jan. 3.—According to information received here, the Polish army of 30,000 advancing along the railways towards Berlin has captured six German cities.

The Polish mobilization and advance has alarmed the German government. Counter measures are expected to be undertaken immediately. Herr Noske, newly appointed minister of the army and navy, has ordered the arming of large German forces to oppose the Polish invasion of German territory. Much alarm is felt here regarding the Polish advance.

50 Miles from Berlin.
London, Jan. 2.—Polish troops have entered Frankfort on the Oder, 50 miles east of Berlin, says a Berlin dispatch to the Express, which adds that the Poles have occupied Beuthen, in Prussian Silesia and Bromberg, in the province of Posen, 69 miles northeast of the Posen city.

Negotiations Threatened.
Copenhagen, Jan. 3.—The Allied armistice commission threatens to break off preliminary peace negotiations if the radicals seize the German government, according to a Berlin dispatch received by the Politiken.

London, Jan. 3.—Poland is in despair, owing to the invasion of Bolshevik troops and the apparent indifference of the western powers to the plight of the country, according to a Warsaw dispatch to the Mail.

"Telegrams are sent begging intervention by the Allies," the dispatch states, "but no reply comes."

Factories Destroyed.
The correspondent says the situation is made worse by internal disorder in Poland. Factories in all the industrial towns have been destroyed by the Germans and thousands of Poles who were sent to Germany during the war are returning and there is no employment for them. They are taking the law into their own hands and terrorizing their former employers, compelling them to give them money.

Łódź is in the hands of the Red Guard, which has shot some of the officers of the regular troops. The government, headed by Joseph Pilsudski, is weak, the correspondent says.

TRADE CURB IS MODIFIED

Marshal Foch Grants Request of German Delegation.

London, Jan. 3.—General appeals against suspension by the Allies of intercourse between the part of German territory occupied by the Allied armies and the rest of Germany have been taken into consideration at the headquarters of Marshal Foch at Luxembourg. A German delegation has been received at the marshal's headquarters and has been informed that as far as military exigencies permit the appeals have been granted.

NAVY DEMOBILIZATION WORK.

"UNEXPECTED PLACES"

Bert Lytell Appears in Adventure Play at the Best Theatre Tonight

A decidedly thrilling and entertaining feature will be the attraction at the Best theatre today in which the popular actor Bert Lytell is seen as the star. This is the Metro production "Unexpected Places" written by Lieut. Frank R. Adams and published in the Blue Book magazine.

At the Best Tomorrow

Frank Keenan, star of "Loaded Dice," the Pathé play which Manager Workman of the Best theatre, will present to his patrons tomorrow is an out-of-door man and ascribes to that fact much of the remarkable success which he has attained as an actor.

"The Old Romans," said Mr. Keenan the other day, "knew what they were talking about when they said 'a sound mind in a sound body.' The only way to get the best out of yourself is to cultivate good health. Especially this is important to an actor. The work is exacting, easy though it may look to the outsider, and lays a heavy tax upon one's nerves and strength. There is a tendency to become stale. When I feel myself getting into that condition I know there is only one cure—get out into the open and work it out with hard exercise. A man must be 'fit' to succeed. I try to always be 'fit.' Because of that physical fitness I always enjoy my work before the film camera."

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES ACT

Take Steps to Break Street Car Strike at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Jan. 3.—Under orders from Judge John C. Pollock of the federal court, United States marshals took control of the street cars and property of the Kansas City Railway company in Kansas City, Kan., as an outgrowth of the strike of motormen and conductors in progress since Dec. 11. Trainmen as well as guards are being employed by the federal authorities and assigned to duty as rapidly as they can be sworn in. All are armed.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

REV. ELMER H. JOHNSON

Rev. Elmer H. Johnson, field representative, will give a stirring appeal in the First Congregational church in the morning and the Peoples church in the evening, rallying the local forces in the great drive now on to reach the last named goal. Minnesota churches have gone well beyond $125,000 in their drive for their share of $175,000.

The securing of this fund will assure every Congregational minister disability benefit, death benefit for his family, and half pay when he retires in his old age.

Twenty churches in Minnesota are unable to secure pastors; free the available ministers from financial worries so they can expend their full energies in their ministry. Half of these ministers get less than $1000 a year; the average mechanic in New York received $1,380 per year before the war!

Putting the ministry on a better economic basis will mean more ministers, able men entering the ministry, and greater efficiency. More and stronger leaders, free to give themselves with abandon to their work, are essential if the church would successfully meet the challenge of the day.

Come. Catch the spirit of this great undertaking as it sweeps on over the top!

London, Jan. 3.—It is understood that King George and Queen Mary assured President Wilson that the Prince of Wales will visit the United States during his coming trip through the British dominions, according to a Paris dispatch to the Mail.

Americans Starve in Russia. New York, Jan. 3.—Members of the American Methodist Episcopal church in Petrograd are dying of starvation, according to a cable message from Madame Eklund, the deaconess, received here by the Methodist Board of Foreign Missions. "Food question terrible, hopeless," said the message.

"Owing to want of food many of our members died. Nothing received so far. Can we hope to be helped soon?" Dr. G. A. Simons, pastor of the church and now in this city, expressed little hope for his congregation.

5-FOLD DRIVE OF CONGREGATIONALISTS

To Re-interpret Pilgrim Principles of Today, To Enlarge the Church Membership

TO RECRUIT THE MINISTRY $2,000,000 Annually for Missions, $5,000,000 for Old Age Pensions for Ministers

More than once when he passed the broken down, but neatly-kept cottage located at the other end of the block about two hundred feet from his own lonely but palatial home, Barton Lee slowed his steps, his glance lingering on the neat, trim figure of a lady about his own age.

He had taken sufficient interest in the lady to ask something about her from his sole servant, John Ward. The latter imparted the intelligence that she was a widow, Mrs. Althea Warren, that her husband, a worthless adventurer, had deserted her and died and that his family had given his widow the little cottage and a small yearly stipend.

Lee had lifted his hat whenever he caught her eye, but was not the man to intrude his attention upon her, and, while she responded to the courtesy, she acknowledged it only as the casual interest of a man pleasant and friendly with all his neighbors, rich or poor.

"Their Children"

By WALTER DELANEY

(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

More than once when he passed the broken down, but neatly-kept cottage located at the other end of the block about two hundred feet from his own lonely but palatial home, Barton Lee slowed his steps, his glance lingering on the neat, trim figure of a lady about his own age.

He had taken sufficient interest in the lady to ask something about her from his sole servant, John Ward. The latter imparted the intelligence that she was a widow, Mrs. Althea Warren, that her husband, a worthless adventurer, had deserted her and died and that his family had given his widow the little cottage and a small yearly stipend.

Lee had lifted his hat whenever he caught her eye, but was not the man to intrude his attention upon her, and, while she responded to the courtesy, she acknowledged it only as the casual interest of a man pleasant and friendly with all his neighbors, rich or poor.

She was pleased at the neighborly recognition of a man whom everybody respected, and whom she secretly admired.

She grew to have a certain reverence for him when she learned of his deeds of charity and helpfulness for the obscure and unfortunate. He became her ideal and she often wondered how he was content to live alone in the great corner mansion. His man Ward was wont to greet Mrs. Warren civilly and one morning he seemed particularly anxious to talk.

"New arrivals at our house yesterday," he announced. "I suppose you've heard about it?"

"Why, no, I hadn't," she answered.

"Mr. Lee has had some strange impulses at times, but this fresh beats 'em all. He was in the city last week and got interested in a lot of Belgian children brought to this country to find homes for. Bless me! If he didn't take three. Just as if they were war stamps or Liberty bonds to file away and no more trouble than that. They're at the house now, a girl of eight and two lads six and four. Say, they're cute, lively and interesting, but think of it—he's a confirmed old bachelor!"

"But not very old," demurred Mrs. Warren.

"Well, in his habits and system and ways. Him bothering with three little ones just at the age to keep up a racket in our quiet old home!"

"But who is going to take care of them?" inquired the widow.

"That's it—me, of course. He's that inexperienced he thinks they can be packed away like dolls. Yes, I'm to see that they thrive and be happy.

A fine responsibility for a man of my age, isn't it, now?"

"Mr. Lee is a grand, good man to adopt those poor homeless waifs," declared Mrs. Warren in a tone ferocious with genuine emotion, and when Ward was gone her womanly heart went out longingly towards the little

"Well, we've got a sort of system with the little ones," Ward reported to her a week later. "They just romp around the house when it rains and play in the garden all day long when it's fair. I'm growing to like them and Mr. Lee, who is in the city, writes every day anxiously inquiring about them as if they were his own kith and kin."

His manner was troubled and dismal when next Mrs. Warren met him. "Bad news!" he moaned. "Mr. Lee had an automobile accident in the city and is laid up in a hospital there." And, two days later: "All three of the little ones have got the measles."

"Oh, let me nurse them!" impulsively exclaimed the widow. "There is plenty of room for them here. You have your hands full and I—my heart goes out to the little tots!" And before nightfall she was hovering over her patients like some fond mother.

It appeared as though ill fortune was pursuing Barton Lee. Two nights later the big mansion at the corner burned to the ground. Barton barely escaped with his life, and Mrs. Warren now had to give him shelter.

"Not that it matters much, the old house going," he told her. "For Mr. Lee was going to move soon. You see, the place is under foreclosure," and Althea's tender soul became pitiful as from this she supposed in addition to his other troubles Mr. Lee had lost his fortune.

It was two weeks later when for the first time, supported by a crutch, Barton Lee, convalescent, entered the little home to see his children.

"Mr. Lee," Ward had told his employer, "I've known fine women, but Mrs. Warren beats them all. She's been a mother to those little ones and she thinks you're just the grandest man in the world for adopting them. She's got an idea, because I happened to speak of the foreclosure on the old home to clear title, that you've lost all you've got. She's housed the tots, she's made me a welcome guest, and she's so full of pity for your loss of fortune that I suppose she's just longing to take you in until you get on your feet."

"You rascal! You haven't let her think I really am poor, have you?" and so delicately, yet sincerely, did Althea Warren reveal her respect and helpfulness for a man she believed unfortunate and poor, that Barton Lee cherished the womanly treasure he had found, and when he opened his new home she was its mistress and mother to "their children."

SAW SERVICE OVER THERE

Harry B. Nelson with Doughboys at Rhine, Harry B. Swanson in the American Navy

(Deerwood Enterprise)

Two Deerwood boys who have seen active service in France are now spending the Christmas week with home folks—the first of our heroes to return from "over there". They are both named Harry B. One is Harry B. Nelson and the other Harry B. Swanson. One was with the "doughboys" that started the Hun's Rhine-ward and the other with the jackies who kept Dunkirk from falling into enemy hands.

Harry Nelson arrived Tuesday. He was drafted last June and soon found himself with Company G, 362nd Infantry in France, went over the top, was gassed and has been convalescing in the hospitals over there and later at Ft. Dodge.

Harry Swanson enlisted in the Crosby naval militia in 1916 and when our country entered the war was given the necessary training at Philadelphia and sent across to join the naval forces at Dunkirk.

When he arrived on the afternoon train, Christmas Day, there was a little touch of the dramatic. As he emerged from the coach he paused a moment and glanced down over the crowd; someone said, "Why, there is Buck!" and then there arose a cheer and then the handshaking began. A Deerwood boy directly from the shell-torn soil of France! He had quite time to answer all the questions that surged in from all sides, besides he was in a hurry to rush up to the house to see mother! Harry is the youngest boy from our village to get to the battle front—he is in his 'teens and weighs 225 pounds. The experience of daily dodging shells does not seem to have interfered with his physical development nor with his health in general. He says France is the finest country in the world—i.e. aside from the U. S. of A., but he adds that this Xmas home-coming is about the best thing that has come his way for some time.

COLD WAVE HITS CITY IN NIGHT

Government Thermometer Records 32 Below, Lowest Point Recorded This Winter

COMPARED WITH OTHER YEARS

This January Starts Out Coldest of Any January in Past Five Years of Records

The lowest point in winter temperature was reached last night, January 3, when 32 below was recorded. This drop followed unseasonably warm weather throughout December. Water pipes cracked in some homes and plumbers were busy. One household had two gold fish freeze up, but they were thawed out later.

Past records were derived in and the weather for the first four days in January as given as follows:

	High	Low
Jan. 1	25	19
Jan. 2	29	22
Jan. 3	23	14
Jan. 4	25	16

	High	Low
Jan. 1	27	11

December was abnormally warm in 1918, but from all appearances January 1919 bids fair to make up in cold temperature as it starts out colder than January of any year past commencing 1914.

HALF FARE RATE FOR MINISTERS

Beginning Jan. 1 all ministers and "those engaged exclusively in religious duties" can buy first class railroad tickets for one-half price. It's a belated Christmas gift to the clergy from the railroad administration.

Railroad administration officials fear there will be some difficulty in identifying those entitled to the new rates, but a plan will soon be worked out which calls for the formation of clergy bureaus to be maintained in New York, Atlanta and Chicago. These bureaus will issue coupon books to ministers which when presented will entitle them to the reduced fare.

The reduced fares, the new order states, can also be had by "sisters of charity, deaconesses and others engaged in exclusively religious duties." Sleeping car rates are not reduced to the minsters.

WATER TANK WAS FROZEN IN NIGHT

Klondyke, Minn., Jan. 3.—There was quite a surprise for the pump man of the N. P. at Klondyke this morning. He prepared to steam up and discovered the water tank frozen; some pipes burst and the plant otherwise demoralized by 32 below weather.

Catarrr Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrr is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrr Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrr Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarrr Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarrral conditions. Send for testimonial, free.

ATTACKS DEPARTMENT

Senator Weeks Criticizes Delay in Casualty Reports.

Asserts That Co-operation With Red Cross Would Have Prevented Confusion in Reports.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Senator Weeks (Rep.) in the senate sharply criticized the war department for delays and errors in compiling casualties among the Expeditionary Forces and for failure to co-operate with the Red Cross in the matter of forwarding letters from wounded soldiers to relatives in this country. Criticism was directed especially at the office of the adjutant general of the army, Senator Weeks saying that Major General McCain, the adjutant general who retired last summer to command a division, and who was succeeded by Major General Harris, should have been retained. He could not believe, he said, that a change in the office during the war was business-like or desirable.

Information Often Wrong.

Senator Weeks declared that the war department's information as to casualties often had been wrong.

"During the week ended Dec. 14," he stated, "the Red Cross received an average of 20 letters a day from parents who had been advised by the war department that their sons had been killed on a specific date. In every one of these cases the parents wrote that they had received communications from their boys subsequent to the date given by the war department. That seems almost miraculous that so many errors could have occurred in cases of this kind."

Our Popular January Clearance Sale

Muslin UndergarmentsSome Very Special Values

We will display a quantity of muslin undergarments to which should be given the closest attention. We purchased heavily of these garments a year ago. Bought more than we needed last year. The result is that we can sell these at a third less than later purchases.

See them—you cannot begin to purchase the materials for what we sell the garments. This is a big opportunity.

And Silk Petticoats

We still have a quantity of silk petticoats in black and colors, purchased before later advances. Should you need a silk petticoat this season you will save money by purchasing these. There is a fine selection.

Soiled Handkerchiefs

A goodly quantity of 15c, 19c, 25c, 35c and 50c handkerchiefs, these are slightly soiled and will sell at ½ to ¾ off regular prices.

The Holidays all over. We have gone through our stocks and picked out the surplus stock from here and there. There are garments here, furs there and odd lots of every line from all over the store. Every line of goods must be reduced to the lowest possible quantity. This must be done before inventory. The inventory is now in progress of being taken. These must be sold quickly. There are some excellent bargains—use them and save money.

About Future Dry Goods Prices

There is a general expectancy that prices will drop quickly now that the war is over. Doubtless that by the close of 1919 prices will have decreased somewhat, but the reductions can not come quickly nor is there reason to believe that they will begin to go down for six months. Contracts have all been placed for spring. There is absolutely no surplus and the foreign demand is enormous. In many instances prices for spring are higher than were fall prices. You'll gain nothing by waiting—buy for present needs now.

Furs! Furs!All are Now on Sale

We have reduced the price of every piece of fur in the store. This includes muffs, scarfs and childrens furs. Purchase furs now—come early.

REVENUE BILL HAS STRANGE FEATURES

LOADED DOWN WITH ALL KINDS OF LEGISLATION THAT WILL BE ADOPTED BY HOUSE.

CHILD LABOR TAX FAVORED

Changes the Approach of Peace Is Bringing to Washington—Fordney Comes Out Strongly Against Extravagance by Congress.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—The revenue bill carrying $6,000,000,000 for 1919 and $4,000,000,000 for 1920 was loaded down with almost every kind of legislation that could be imagined. Not only was the bone-dry amendment for the District of Columbia attached, but what was far more far-reaching in importance was an amendment taxing the products of child labor, and another taxing political campaign contributions of more than $500 at the rate of 100 per cent. What is interesting about these various amendments that seem to have no particular place in a revenue bill is the fact that they will be adopted by the house. It is almost certain that the house of representatives will make sure that these amendments put on in the senate shall be incorporated in the bill before any conference agreement is reached.

The child labor measure is one which excited a good deal of adverse comment, but strange to say it was not opposed by the usual number of southern votes. In fact, a number of southern senators voted for the amendment. They included Fletcher of Florida, Gay and Ransdell of Louisiana, Kirby of Arkansas, McCall of Tennessee, Martin and Swanson of Virginia, Sheppard of Texas, and Vardaman of Mississippi. There was no pretense that the amendment would raise any revenue, but it gets around the recent decision of the Supreme court which nullified the act passed a few years ago prohibiting the interstate shipment of goods made by child labor. It has been demonstrated time and again that where everything else fails, the taxing power of the government can be used to stop any kind of business. While it is called a dangerous power, it is sometimes exercised. Among the notable instances was the taxation of the circulation of state bankers at such a rate as to prevent issues of state bank money. Not many years ago the manufacture of white phosphorus matches was prohibited by taxation.

The old states' rights question was raised when this amendment was adopted, but it was observed that the idea of states' rights grows weaker and weaker in each succeeding session of congress. The growth of nationalism is something tremendous and there are only a very few defenders of the principle of states' rights.

A few changes are observed in Washington as a result of the end of the war. There has been a clearing out of the war workers to some extent, but not enough to restore the capital city to anything like its normal condition. There are just as many soldiers and sailors on the streets, but not quite so many officers. There are not as many soldiers and sailors driving women about the town as there were a short time ago, when the government automobiles were used for shopping trips, going to the theaters, clubs, evening parties, calling, etc. Probably the time will come when some congressman from what is called the "rural districts" will raise his head and make an inquiry as to why so much money was spent by the government for machines which were used largely for social purposes.

There are not as many soldiers and sailors driving women about the town as there were a short time ago, when the government automobiles were used for shopping trips, going to the theaters, clubs, evening parties, calling, etc. Probably the time will come when some congressman from what is called the "rural districts" will raise his head and make an inquiry as to why so much money was spent by the government for machines which were used largely for social purposes.

Congressman Fordney of Michigan who is likely to be the floor leader of the house in the next congress, has taken a strong position against extravagance and he will probably insist upon close scrutiny of all bills which are proposed in the Sixty-sixth congress. "I believe the time for spending the people's money extravagantly," he told the house one day, "without questioning the purpose for which it is raised and spent, is nearly at an end. During the war all men in congress were patriotic and raised no question as to what use the people's money was going to be put to in carrying on the war. Much of it has been extravagantly spent and hereafter will be accounted for with much criticism, perhaps. I believe that to delegate to the postmaster general the power to establish a system of mail carriage by air service means the expenditure of not a few million dollars, but a billion dollars before long."

The disappearance of one or two words that have been heard so frequently during the past year or two will probably serve as an indication that war has ceased. One of them is "camouflage." This French word burst upon us like a bomb, and the explosion sent its fragments in every direction. Scarcely a speech in congress could be made unless somebody worked in the word "camouflage." The other word was not exactly a war word, but it has only one meaning now. It is "propaganda." One never hears the word now without thinking of the Huns. In fact, it has been worked almost as much since the war as while the war was in progress. That is another word we have to settle with the Germans.

TARRED ROADS AFFECT TREES

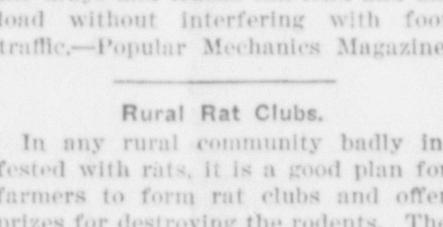

Investigation Has Shown Conclusively Their Disastrous Results on Neighboring Vegetation.

The injurious effects of tarred roads upon neighboring vegetation have been described in numerous articles emanating from both American and European sources. One of the latest investigations of this subject has been made at Milan by U. Brizzi. The plants most susceptible to damage of this sort, says Signor Brizzi, are species of horse chestnut (Aesculus Hippocastanum and Aesculus), the leaves of which, at the beginning of summer, turn rusty at the edge and curl up slightly, while their surface is covered with numerous small spots, which, at first, are yellow and look as if covered with a thin layer of shining varnish. The leaf then curls up more and more, dries, and is easily blown away. Other plants very sensitive to the effects of tar are Forsythia viridissima, Fagus sylvatica, Lagerstroemia indica, Magnolia grandiflora, Deutzia and Cornus. The damage is caused almost entirely by the very fine dust raised by the passage of motorcars. This dust settles slowly and is most abundant on low plants and the lower branches of trees. Once deposited, the small particles of tar give off injurious vapors when strongly heated by the sun. Plant and parts of plants not directly reached by the sun never show this damage, while plants exposed to the sun are injured in proportion to the intensity and duration of the sunshine. The best remedy is to keep down the dust by the regular and abundant watering of the roads.—Scientific American.

WALK IN CENTER OF STREET

Innovation in Canadian Town That Has Been Accorded Warm Welcome by Pedestrians.

Congestion of traffic resulting from the rapid expansion of the wholesale district in Edmonton, Alberta, has caused the city authorities to remove the paved walks from the sides of the street to the center. This gives more room adjacent to the buildings where the drays and trucks can load and unload without interfering with foot traffic.

Rural Rat Clubs.

In any rural community badly infested with rats, it is a good plan for farmers to form rat clubs and offer prizes for destroying the rodents. The younger members of the community as well as adults should be allowed to compete and the prizes should be awarded periodically, as once a month. A first, second and third prize are suggested for those who bring in the greatest number of rat tails. Specific rules governing the contests should be made at the start, and instruction as to proper methods of trapping or otherwise killing rats should be part of the program for each meeting of the club. Prizes may be provided by private donation or even by assessment of members. The plan gives better satisfaction than a system of straight rewards, because it arouses more enthusiasm and costs less.—D. Lantz in The House Rat.

Americans without murmuring cut their sugar allowance from four pounds a month to three and then as long as need be to two pounds for loyalty's sake.

Grade Streets With Marks.

Grading streets and giving them marks as is done with pupils in the public schools is the plan used in the city's petition to force the Pittsburgh Railways company to spend $626,447 in track and equipment improvements. Some of the company's tracks are graded as low as 20 per cent, this representing the worst stretches of road. The receivers of the company insist that further increases in fare will be necessitated if they are forced to improve their equipment.

A GRAVEL and sand pit is not an inspiring sight to behold.

It makes about the same impression on the average person as any ordinary hole in the ground.

But when a great building program is contemplated, sand and gravel are of primary importance. Under such conditions a pit of this character is a handy and economical thing to have on the premises.

It is the good fortune of the Pan Motor Company to have such a pit in the very spot where it will later erect one of its large plant units. Thus, by having sand and gravel in its own yard a vast saving has been effected in the cost of all buildings erected in the past and will continue to be effected until the entire plant is in its completed stage.

Considering the saving in hauling and the fact that the pit itself serves as an excavation for a future building, there will be a saving conservatively estimated by experts at One Million Dollars.

Besides, the sand and the gravel are of a grade and kind highly valued by experienced builders—A-1 material.

Mother Earth is co-operating with the Pan Motor Company. The very ground is loyal and gives liberally of its treasure. There are lots of holes on the face of the earth but few of them are worth a Million Dollars.

The Pan Pit is doing its bit.

BOHEMIA LAND CO.

Popular Idea Concerning the Country and Its People Has Been Far From the Truth.

When Shakespeare wrote of "the sea-coast of Bohemia" he showed no cheerfulness disregard of fact than most of us now do when we think of that richly storied country as a land of gypsies forever bent upon gay or wildsome adventure. "Bohemian" has stood for many an age as an appellation for carefree wanderers; yet as originally applied by the French it probably referred to the expatriated disciples of the Bohemian martyr, John Huss. Spiritual and patriotic fervor rather than light-heartedness are the traditional marks of this people, who after long generations of subjection to Teuton Austria are coming into their own.

Bohemia was the home of the Czechs for hundreds of years before Germanic invaders broke in upon its happy freedom, as early, indeed, as the sixth century before Christ. The Czechs' love of country and of liberty and their sense of Slavic kinship with their oppressed Slovaks brethren dwelling near by never died or dimmed. Despite tyranny and persecution they have clung to pride in their past and to hope for their future; they have cherished their language, their literature and customs, their common faith and ideals.—Atlanta Journal.
